MEET
DINA OUSLEY, FOUNDER

Emmy award winning makeup artist and cosmetologist, Dina Ousley, the originator of the airbrush makeup is revolutionizing the cosmetic industry. Who would have guessed that a cosmetologist born in Fort Worth, Texas would try being a stewardess, then move to New York and do hair on a cruise line to help pay for studying acting at the Actors Studio. She was having too much motion sickness and decided to get a day job cutting hair in New York. She found a job on the beauty floor at Henri Bendel as Paul Mitchell's assistant and worked with him to open Crimpers Salons. A story for another day. She took a brief vacation to California and discovered it was in fact both warm and sunny. She then decided it was time to move to California and try her luck at acting. Paul gave all the usual cautions and then got her a very good job with his friends in California.

Soon after she arrived, she got a part on TV series. Dina never gave up her hair cutting clientele.. Acting during the day and cutting hair at night. She discovered that acting involved a lot of waiting around, and if you know her you know that is not for her. She went on to be Warren Beatty's salon assistant in the box office hit movie "Shampoo"... art imitating life? She was cutting hair on set in her abundant spare time and became a Hollywood hair dresser by accident and then a Hollywood makeup artist! Dina found that she was very impatient with traditional makeup... fortunately. On set she felt both the need for beauty and speed. This challenge would inevitably pave the way for the modern airbrush makeup era. While working in front of the camera, Dina realized how precise the camera's were and how important speed is.

She began her quest to create a flawless coverage that would be invisible to the naked eye, camera lenses, and work in all lighting conditions. Realizing this could not be done with traditional makeup, she began to explore airbrush. In 1989 Dina won first place for an international makeup competition using her airbrush makeup. Dinair had began its journey in film and TV, and then salons and spas, and onto homes around the world. What had started on the big screen secret is now one of the leading innovative makeup applications in the world. For over 30 years, Dinair has been the top choice of leading artists in television, salons, bridal and everyday. Dina has no plans of slowing down.

In addition to her sparkle and cheer is a kind impatience, determination and persistence to make life happen.

Happy Airbrushing,
George Lampman
